

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. It is a one-sided program - without providing equal time to a pro-Kerry program - and is harmful to our democracy.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest - not their corporate and personal interests.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
